Second Home Computer

When our ten year-old twin daughters had to gather information for their Geography reports at the same time we had to get a dozen emails sent out, we knew our house was at least one PC short. Our search for a perfect second home computer brought us to the Certified Nused PCs. We knew we did not want to spend a lot, but we wanted reliability, a warranty and a PC that looked good in the family room. A Certified Nused PC that had been processed by a Microsoft Authorized Refurbisher fit the bill. Thanks for making our decision easier.

Sincerely,

A Large Family with Large Needs for PCs

There are six of us in our household, including four kids ranging from 6 to 17 years old. Our need to access the Internet for everything from online shopping to checking-out the school events' calendar, created a need for more computer time. As the economy tightened up, however, so did our spending budget. The word "value" took on a whole new meaning at our home. Your pre-owned, Certified Nused PC met our needs for a PC that had the quality, speed, wireless configuration, warranty and price...in other words, value. The fact that the laptop is from a Microsoft Authorized Refurbisher is an added bit of reassurance.

Thank you.

Just Starting a Small Business

My friends who are small business owners told me that starting a business is often more expensive than you think. "You have to keep an eye on costs at every level," was the guidance. One area that concerned me was the technology expense. I needed at least three PCs but I also needed to keep the costs down without sacrificing quality. My Certified Nused PCs, from a Microsoft Authorized Refurbisher, enabled me to purchase commercial grade computers, with an extended warranty, at a price my start-up operation could handle.

A Company Needed More of the Same Equipment

Our customer service group has 75 inside reps and 25 outside reps. The inside reps used the same model and configuration desktops and the outside reps used the same notebooks. When a few of our three year old PCs required replacement we found it easier and more economical to put the same exact Certified Nused model in their places. The staff was familiar with the computers and the configurations were the same. With a warranty and reasonable prices, there was no need to buy new.

Retired but Still Connected

My husband recently retired and I had left my job a few years ago. We wanted to "hit the road" but still wanted stay in touch via Wi-Fi connections to the internet when we travel. On our new "fixed income lifestyle" we searched for a notebook that best fit our budget. Your selection of Certified Nused notebooks, all from a Microsoft Authorized Refurbisher, provided us with multiple options for an excellently refurbished PC. Traveling with the confidence of an extended warranty on our PC just made our purchase decision that much easier.

Away to College

Just after I "helped" pay my tuition for my next year at college, I found that I needed a new computer. Well, not a brand new computer, just a good quality reliable computer that I could take to class and work with in the dorm or library. A friend told me about Certified Nused PCs and how their functionality is guaranteed out of the box. He explained the difference between a used PC I might find at any auction site and Certified Nused PCs from a Microsoft Authorized Refurbisher. Everything he said was true. It started right up, genuine Microsoft Windows XP is preinstalled and cosmetically it looks great. It is a good PC at a good price. Thanks.
